

PEACE and a BETTER WORLD

VICTORY, won at incalculable cost, is not the end. It is but the beginning, bringing us the priceless gift of Peace after long years of blood and sweat and toil. Peace is but the hard-won opportunity to make the Better World for which our sons, brothers and husbands fought and died. Each of us has his part to play in building this Better World. Only by dedicating our every act to the banishment of fear, the building of security, the practice of tolerance... now... can we begin to repay those who sacrificed so much, to make the Better World possible.
